A message from our President:

Hi Everyone,

OK, how many of you that prayed for a respite from the unusual rain we were having traded for this heat? I'll bet none. Isn't this torturous? Well, just try and keep yourself and your ferns as cool as possible for the next few weeks – maybe some iced tea, lemonade, Margaritas or Mojitos for yourselves and water for the ferns as we wait for the Fall season.

As everyone knows (I hope) our meeting this Sunday will be our Summer Social. John MacMillan will be our host. If you attended the July meeting you should have received a map to help you get to John's home. If not, a map is included with this Newsletter. A sign-up sheet was passed around for members to list the food or drink items you will be bringing. If for any reason you need to verify your food offering please contact Jessica Sheldon at 713-729-9188 or you can call me at 281-733-5564.

If you haven't heard already, Patrick Hudnall has graciously agreed to serve as our Society Vice President for the remainder of the year. If you haven't done so already, please congratulate and thank him for stepping forward when we really needed someone to do so.

We are still in need of a volunteer for the winter social on December 16. If you have the facility to accommodate our crowd the food and drinks will be supplied by members and guests that attend. If you'd like to do this, please don't be bashful – we need you.

I'm looking forward to seeing you on Sunday at John's.

Fern Groaners

In a way, I hate to do this to you, but feel I must. The following was received by your editor via e-mail (from Ted and Jean) but traceable to members Ben and Phyllis Tobias. I hope the remembrance doesn't keep you up at night:

Quote:

A scientist was researching a particular fern so he sent a message to his colleagues to ask if they had any information about it. Unfortunately, his handwriting was really bad. Soon, faxes were pouring in with information about various types of ferns. The scientist grew frustrated. He had information on every fern imaginable except the one he was studying. So he sent another message to his colleagues: If it isn't bracken, don't fax it.

That reminds me of another one, if you can handle it:

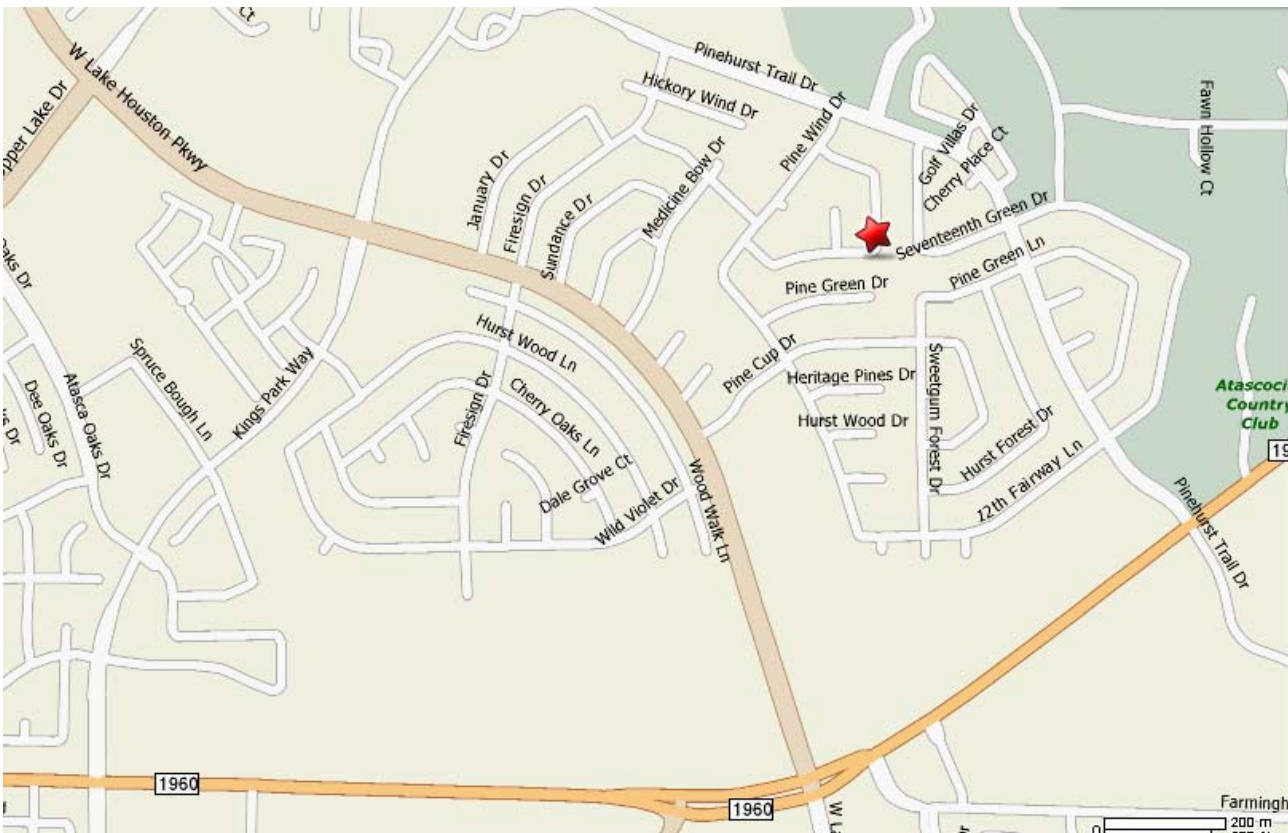

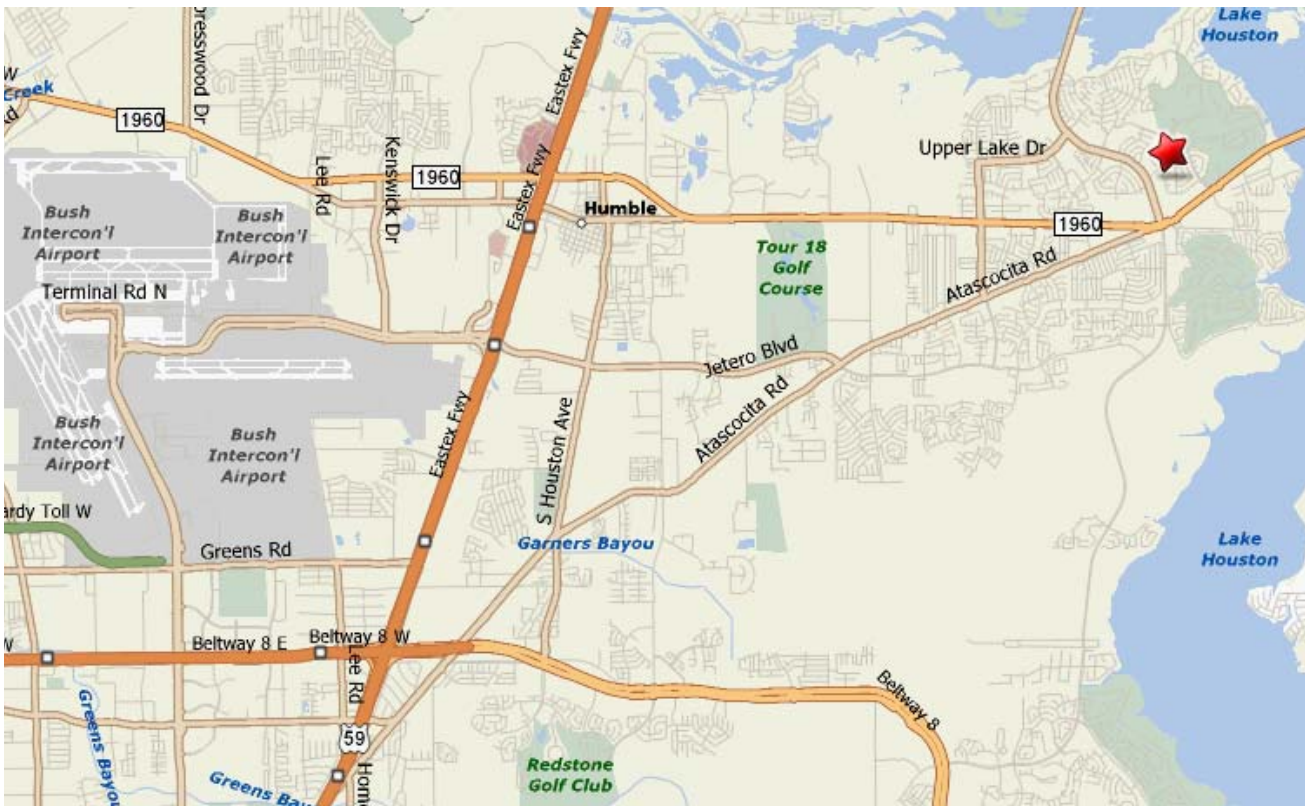

A guy walks into a flower store and says, "I'd like three dozen of those beautiful anemones you've been advertising." The shopkeeper replied, "I'm sorry, sir, but we only have one dozen left. May I recommend some of these luscious ferns we just got in? I think they'd make a beautiful arrangement all by themselves." "You're right," the customer said, "With fronds like these, who needs anemones?"
